Summary

I am a full stack developer. With 10 years of experience in hospitality, I have strong foundation in communication, ability to work in teams efficiently and have also learned how to lead one. I am well organized, very passionate about my field and a highly motivated person with attention to details.

My mission is to contribute my knowledge and skills to new projects that make a difference - one line of code at a time. I look forward to working on dynamic projects that have a positive impact.
